Dear Chun Mo Chu
Ref: 110766062

This notice explains that you are liable to be removed from the United Kingdom (UK)

You do not have permission to enter or stay in the UK.

What this means for you

You are to be granted immigration bail. Further information about this is in the separate notice about granting immigration bail.

You do not have a right of appeal against this decision.

The reasons for this decision are set out in the 'reasons for decision' section.

Information about help and advice on returning home is in the 'next steps' section.

If you want to seek legal advice you must do so now.

Yours sincerely,

IO Coshall 23985

Your personal information

The Data Protection Act 2018 governs how we use personal data. For details of how we will use your personal information and who we may share it with please see our Privacy Notice for the Border, Immigration and Citizenship system at https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/personal-information-use-in-borders-immigration-and-citizenship. This also explains your key rights under the Act, how you can access your personal information and how to complain if you have concerns.

Reasons for decision

You are liable to be removed from the UK for the following reasons:

You are specifically considered a person who overstayed their period of granted leave in the United Kingdom, because Home Office records confirm you entered the UK on a Tier 5 Youth Mobility visa which was valid from 05/01/2015, which expired on 05/01/2017. You then claimed asylum on 14/02/2024 which was withdrawn on 07/11/2025. To date you have not submitted any further applications to regulate your leave in the United Kingdom.

You are therefore an Overstayer, which is an offence under section 24(C1) of the Immigration Act 1971 as amended (by Nationality and Borders Act 2022.)

Next steps

If you think there are other reasons why you should be allowed to stay in the UK

If you think you have a reason to stay in the UK that you have not yet told us, you need to take the following steps:

- you must make an application to stay using the relevant form and, where applicable, pay the appropriate fee. You can find out how to apply on www.gov.uk.
- if you wish to seek protection, including an asylum claim, you must make an application. Details of how to apply can be found on the immigration pages of www.gov.uk.

If you think you have a reason to stay in the UK that you have not yet told us, you need to tell reporting staff now.

Help and advice on returning home

The Voluntary Returns Service (VRS) can be contacted for help and advice on returning home. The VRS can discuss the status of your case and the next steps in your departure from the UK.

The VRS can provide practical support – from providing access to a passport or emergency travel document, purchasing your flight ticket and if eligible provide reintegration support. VRS can also help with medical assistance if required.

You can contact the VRS and access further information online or by telephone.

Consequences of staying in the UK unlawfully
If you stay in the UK without permission to do so:

- you can be detained
- you can be prosecuted, fined and imprisoned
- you can be removed and banned from returning to the UK
- you will not be allowed to work
- if you do work illegally, your earnings may be seized, and assets confiscated
- you will not be able to rent a home
- you may not be able to claim any benefits and you may be prosecuted if you try to
- you can be charged by the NHS for medical treatment and if you fail to pay, this may prevent you from remaining in or re-entering the UK
- you can be denied access to a bank account
- your existing bank account may be closed or frozen and any balance withheld unless you leave
- Driver and Vehicle Licensing Agency can prevent you from driving by taking away your UK driving licence
