Why are you disclosing that the Trust Leader in boldface is a member of O2 store team who is authorised to carry out identity verification in person?

Please clarify which GDPR article you are referring to.

Up until now, neither you (the individuals using the email address adminsubjectaccess2@virginmediao2.co.uk) nor any O2 department or representative has been willing to answer a simple question about whether those in the O2 store were staff members of the O2 store.

Besides being evasive, the way you use boldface is also quite cryptic, especially the use on Trusted Leader. What even is this Trusted Leader? Trusted by whom? Could you clarify what this term means and to whom it refers? What does it mean to me?

I am not sure about your definition of an O2 customer. I can only guess the simple answer should be no, as I don't currently have an O2 phone number.

I suggested that I could go to a store to let you verify my identification, but the result would be doubtful if we can't sort out even some simple questions first.

I am glad that at least you responded regarding the redaction of the footage. However, it prompts further questions. You said, "...we can confirm the image of a third party will be disclosed, but they will be blurred with audio muted, so you may not be able to make out what the person looks like or their precise actions." If I am not mistaken, it means you will mask even their actions while also muting the video? Is it really necessary? Is this level of redaction proportional to the amount of personal (versus incident-related) information being redacted?

Until verification is completed, we are unable to proceed with the request or release any personal information.

Please also confirm:

- Whether you are an O2 customer; and
- If so, we require the full mobile number or account number your request relates to.

In direct response to your question 'Will their actions also be masked?' – we can confirm the image of a third party will be disclosed, but they will be blurred with audio muted, so you may not be able to make out what the person looks like or their precise actions.

If we do not receive confirmation of your attendance for in-store verification, your case will remain on hold. If no verification is received within a reasonable period, your case may be closed.

We are ready to proceed as soon as you confirm your attendance or preferred verification route.

Kind regards,

Tahli

Your Excellencies,

I have reached out to the US and Japan for help in the form of investment in allegiance by sending messages to comments@whitehouse.gov and vice_president@whitehouse.gov, as well as through the official contact portals at https://www.whitehouse.gov/contact/ and https://www.kantei.go.jp/foreign/forms/comment_ssl.html.

In my correspondence, I included details from the following links for reference:
https://github.com/AI-Migrant/mass-madness/blob/main/correspondence/investment-n.md or https://coda.grammarly.com/d/inn_dg4IDZ4crux

The reason I am sending you this email, which is a reply email I am sending to O2, a telecom company in the UK, is to let you know my claims are truly happening and to give you a glimpse of how my access to essential information and the basics of a normal life has been denied for years. I am confident in saying that O2 is with my persecutors, of whom the UK authorities are part.

While this event alone may not constitute persecution, I hope you will see that what I have been documenting is true.

I am aware that my emails to my persecutors are quite different from how people would normally write to another person or organisation. I found it extremely inappropriate to write to or about my persecutors the same way one would normally write to or about another person or organisation, which might appear that they are not the persecutors who have insulted and harmed me for years.

I assure you that I meant to and did offer the best of myself to them before they insulted and harmed me nonstop.

Below you will find my reply to them and the previous exchange. Please try to read between the lines of this exchange for a glimpse of the absurdity at the heart of the years-long persecution—it may not be immediately obvious—and know that this is but an example of a small part of what I have endured, and that my documentary about the persecution is truthful. If the context really is too unclear to third parties, reading my documentary first should provide clarity. I hope, together with the other messages and records, it let you understand how years of my life have been rendered meaningless, and my life as a whole is being destroyed; Thus led me to make my plea to the US and Japan for help in the form of an investment in allegiance, which involves offering me a safe place with fundamental human respect and decency, and I will pledge my allegiance to the people of my new home.

---(reply to O2 starts below)

You are saying that your hope of raising a complaint against yourselves was a response to my first question.

I have contacted and asked to communicate with other people at O2 for my questions. I believe you know you are replying to me with this email address (adminsubjectaccess2@virginmediao2.co.uk) only. Is there not a person at O2 who could answer a simple question without raising a complaint against themselves?

And for my second question?

Lastly, may I presume the passage I quote below is the response to my third question?

“Where CCTV footage includes other identifiable people, we are required to remove their personal data before disclosing the footage to you. The ICO guidance on this states if the footage includes other people, you’ll probably need to redact (e.g. edit or blur) it so they can’t be identified.”

If that’s the case, I am afraid I have to say that you are still not really answering my question. Will their actions also be masked?

I would like to conclude this smoothly, however, I find your responses rather evasive.

Is "If you require any personal data, we will need you to provide the information we have asked you to in our email below so we can proceed with your request. Unfortunately, at this stage, we have been unable to verify you." a response to "You are saying that you need to hide even if those people who acted like the staff of the O2 store inside the O2 store were really staff of the O2 store. And that's according to the UK GDPR. Am I understanding correctly?"?

Could you elaborate what you mean by "fully redact all other individuals"? Do you mean that you will mask their identity, or even their actions?

You are saying that you need to hide even if those people who acted like the staff of the O2 store inside the O2 store were really staff of the O2 store. And that's according to the UK GDPR. Am I understanding correctly?

And there is nobody at O2 who will tell me why I was asked to leave unless you make it a complaint?

I would like to confirm if I will receive the footage covering the entire incident, from my entrance to my departure, including the interaction outside the front door, until I left after picking up my bags outside the store.

Alternatively, your preference on the method of communication:

To proceed with your Subject Access Request our team will need the following information:

Are you existing / former O2 Customer:

If yes, please provide your mobile or account number:

We can verify you in store if this is your preferred method. Please advise the date and time from what's listed below and we will inform the store you will be attending:

Tue 24/02 – 10:00 to 16:00
Wed 25/02 – 10:00 to 16:00
Thurs 26/02 – 10:00 to 16:00
Fri 27/02 – 10:00 to 16:00

Mon 02/03 – 10:00 to 16:00
Thurs 05/03 – 10:00 to 16:00
Fri 06/03 – 10:00 to 15:00

If you are attending the store, to confirm your identity the store leader will need you to confirm your email address, which is the one we have been communicating with you on, and for you to provide your Subject Access Request reference which is 6062734.

We look forward to your response on these points before we can proceed.

But you haven't even answered if every one of them is a staff member of the O2 store.

It would also be nice if you or someone else could answer the second question:
The reason they asked me to leave.

I am afraid I can only visit a store in person so that you can verify my identity, as I have mentioned that my belongings including identifications are taken or stolen by the authorities.

--- (my previous email)

Hello,

I went to an O2 Store on 22 January. A staff member spoke to me near the entrance. He gestured for me to go ahead after I gestured several times to ask if I could see the phones. People, not sure if they were real staff, came one by one to talk to me soon after I started browsing. I gestured that I was just looking at the phones. After a few of them, one gestured for me to leave. I gestured, including writing with my finger on my palm, to ask him why. He responded verbally, and I gestured that I couldn't understand. He took the bags I put down in a corner upstairs. I spent some time gesturing that it's fine for me to leave, but I wanted to know the reason. He still responded only verbally and continued to try to take my other bag away. When I left without getting an answer, I found my bags and some kind of security outside the shop.

I would like to ask for the following:

1. The identity of those people. Was every one of them a staff member of the store?
2. The reason they asked me to leave.
3. The CCTV footage of the whole incident, from my entrance to my departure, including the interaction outside the front door, until I left after picking up my bags outside the store.

Extra information

Location: 229 Tottenham Court Road, London W1T 7QG

Time: around 12.30 p.m. on 22 January.

I had long hair and was wearing a red jacket.

As my belongings, including identifications are taken or stolen by the authorities, I will visit the store if you want to verify that I am the person in the incident.

For us to progress your request we need to ensure that you are entitled to the information you have asked for. The GDPR (General Data Protection Regulation) guidelines set out very clear rules on information disclosure. These are designed to keep your data safe.

Please also let us know if there are any accessibility requirements.

We understand you have explained you would be able to attend the store to verify yourself however, the store would also need these verification documents to verify you.

Before we can progress further, we need you to provide the information requested below:

Proof of ID: A copy of ONE of the following recent official (dated within the last 3 months) documents showing your name and current address, examples: • Utility bill OR • Council tax bill OR • Bank or credit card statement OR • Driving licence	You can send us an email attaching a scan or digital photo of the document. Exception - If the user is a minor aged 13 years or over we will accept a document showing name & age rather than address (e.g. passport, birth certificate)
Image for ID: We require an image of you, to check CCTV coverage and to identify you. This could be a driving licence or a passport. • A description of what you were wearing.	You can provide these to us by replying an attaching the information requested to this email.

In your reply, please also confirm the following if you hold an account with O2:

- Who is the owner of the number?
- Who was the user of the phone during the period specified in the request?

In order to receive your data within GDPR timeframe you will need to send us your evidence and any other information we have requested, as soon as possible please. Failure to do so will result in a delay with us being able to process your request and could lead to your case being closed if we are unable to verify you within the required timeframe.

Please send your evidence / additional information via email to Adminsubjectaccess2@o2.com

We look forward to hearing from you; if you have any queries, please email us.
